Invitation to apply for the Walter-Grossmann-Prize 2024

In honour of *Prof. Dr.-Ing. habil. Dr.-Ing. E.h. Walter Großmann, the Gesellschaft zur Förderung der Fachrichtung Geodäsie und Geoinformatik der Leibniz Universität Hannover endows the Walter Großmann Prize. The prize comprises an award certificate and a donation of up to € 3,000. The award is intended to be used for subject-related study trips or other scientific training.

All Master's candidates in the field of Geodesy and Geoinformatics at Leibniz University Hannover whose Master's thesis was submitted and assessed in the period from 1st July 2023 to 30th September 2024 are eligible to participate.

Details to the submission process are:

1. A formless application for the Walter Grossmann Prize, stating the topic of the thesis, its assessment by the university and a brief summary of the content, provided it has not yet been published in the report booklet of the sponsoring organisation
2. A presentation (press article) of the relevant research area that is generally understandable and appealing to the public.

Please submit the documents in written and digital form (WORD for WINDOWS, font: Arial 12, with embedded illustrations) by 30th September 2024, as it is planned to publish the applicants after the award ceremony, e.g. in the following Fördererheft (annual report of the Society).
